Manage your documents
and collaborate more efficiently

Propheo will simplify the management of your internal and external teams

Propheo is a suite of collaborative applications fully hosted on the Web. The Propheo solution simplifies collaboration and document tracking. It is particularly well suited for the needs of a business that relies on the work of a team (freelancers and employees).

Here's how Propheo can help your translation business:

Geography becomes irrelevant

Propheo was designed to facilitate communication and information sharing between team members located all over the world.

Focus on essentials

Propheo lets you focus on your business model by taking over your less valuable tasks.

Keep control over your documents

Better document quality control through workflows and traceability.

Your data is secure with Propheo

Your data is secure and saved daily. Access is protected by pre-set permissions.

Your data is accessible anytime, anywhere

Propheo makes your data accessible anywhere and anytime.

Useful features for those who work with words

Propheo makes working more comfortable by providing features such as word count in a Word document, text or PDF and automatically converting different document formats. You will also be able to manage freelancers and their personal folders.

Your online virtual office

Propheo provides a newly shaped user interface. You will be able to access your web application just like you would your office desk-top.

Simple and Secure

Accessible by a simple Internet connection

No installation required

Your data is backed up daily

Always enjoy the latest version of the product
